A Young Lawyer of Detroit Shot by a Prominent Newspaper Man.

Events of the past few months in and around Portage Lake have been of a character to attract the attention of the whole country. The mining interests of that region have been the source of much excitement, and the rivalry between the Quincy and Franklin companies has been the cause of many bitter feelings. The mining in the Portage Lake district is carried on by companies who own the land, which is divided into sections, and the stockholders are generally residents of Boston. The Quincy and Franklin companies are the largest and most successful in the district, and the rivalry between them has been very bitter. Both companies have been very successful, and have paid large dividends to their stockholders. The Quincy company has been the most successful, and has paid the largest dividends. The Franklin company has been the most unfortunate, and has paid the smallest dividends
